

Blue State Blues by Rockin' Solidarity Labor Chorus 228

1a. I woke up this morning, my heart was full of hope. (2x)
Now I'm down, they elected a dope.

1b. I'm a red but I've got the Blue State Blues (2x)
A dummy's won, but that ain't news.

2. Woke up this morning, I looked out the door. (2x)
My neighbors were evicted, because they're poor.

3. Got married yesterday,
but those red states say I'm single again(2x)
Better take the kids to Sweden, where men can marry men.

4. Well it looks like we've got a whole lot of work to do. (2x)
Fightin' for our rights, and a woman's right to choose.

5. Four more years, I'll be 62. In four years, I'll be 62.
There'll be no Social Security, I'll be poor and blue.

6. My comrades say, the fight has just begun.
Stay strong, the fight has just begun.
Reach out to red state allies, for the next election.

7. Woke up this morning, nothing much has changed. (2x)
W's still a liar, and the governor is deranged.

8. Folks who wanted values, voted a liar in.
Folks who wanted values, voted a killer in.
But we who value life, know that war is a sin.

9. Got a call this morning, boss says run and choose.
You got a half day, man, what's the matter with you?
You got 2 choices, either way you lose.

10. They talked about their values, won it in a voting booth.
But we have other values, they think we're uncouth.
Need to end war and unemployment, and that's the truth.

11. I'm all through with grievin', lettin' all that go.
I'm all though with crying, let's get on with the show.
Start spreadin' love and justice, everywhere we go
